

Dear campus community,

At approximately 4:15 p.m. today, a chemical spill occurred in Building 323 Engineering Lab Facility. There were no reported injuries to building occupants or emergency responders. The building was reopened at approximately 7:30 p.m.

We appreciate the immediate emergency response to this incident. Fortunately, the chemical spill was contained to a small area. The room in which the incident occurred is now being cleaned by UCI Environmental Health & Safety (EH&S).

Important information on lab and workplace safety can be found on the EH&S website.

If you would like to receive zotALERTs by text message, please use your UCInetID to register. Registration is easy and only takes a few minutes.

Sincerely,

Ronald S. Cortez, JD, MA
